CAMPUS RESPONSE

CHRISTMAS 1966

Dear Friend:

Unless the need is great, I do not make a special appeal for funds. The present need is great, so, in a letter dated September 19, I appealed for a "transfusion of life-giving finance" to carry on the Crusade and to undertake some new and vital projects.

As always, the response has been heartwarming. A number of truly sacrificial gifts have been received. The flow of mail and income has increased substantially. During the first twelve days of October, the Crusade has received $8,000 more than during the corresponding period of September. Most of the increase has been in small gifts of $1 to $10.

The increased rate of contributions must be sustained if we are to carry out our plans. A flash flood is not good enough. Consequently it is necessary to continue the financial appeal and to focus the attention of our friends and supporters on our needs. Only a small percentage of our constituency has responded so far. Our regular worldwide ministry requires $50,000 monthly to sustain it.

Additional projects we are preparing to undertake include:

- 1) An educational campaign on the true nature of communism in Thailand.
- 2) Training 1,000 university and college students to combat communism on their campuses.

Thailand

The strategic location of Thailand is shown by the accompanying map. What the map does not show is the "peoples' war" that is raging in a number of areas. The situation in Thailand today corresponds roughly with the situation in South Vietnam a few years ago. It will be tragic, indeed, if the situation that prevails today in South Vietnam is repeated in Thailand within the next few years.

Military activity is a late stage of the communist malignancy. At an earlier stage the communists concentrate upon deceiving the people and recruiting them around specific grievances. During the stage of deception, the most potent weapon is knowledge. Without specific knowledge, liberty-loving and religious patriots can be deceived and trapped.

We are fortunate to have a man of the caliber of Dr. Sluis ready to go to Thailand to launch this program. He could be earning a large personal income by concentrating upon the practice of his profession of orthopedic surgery. The preservation of the freedom of mankind takes precedence in his life, and he willingly sacrifices his personal interests and leaves his family for long periods. His work in British Guiana proved outstandingly successful, and a similar program in Thailand should achieve comparable results.

Training Campus Anti-Communists

It is now no secret that the college student is the prime target of the communists. Past communist success has been due to their ability to recruit intelligent students and train them as leaders. They have been able to do this by appealing to the idealism of these students with two seductive promises:

- a) Communist success will abolish the specter of war from the earth.
- b) Communist success will create a new and superior quality of man.

Today these two promises of communism can be revealed for the delusions that they are. This provides a unique opportunity to deal a mortal blow to communist student recruitment.

The fierce conflict between Communist China and Soviet Russia reveals the falsity of the promise that communism automatically abolishes war.

The reality in Communist Russia and Communist China renders ridiculous the claim that socialist society creates regenerate man.

A Socialist Scholar's Conference was held in New York from September 9-11. 2,000 persons attended. The keynote address was given by an old Marxist and friend of Trotsky, Isaac Deutscher. During his address he stated:

"The Socialist Man Stalin presented to the world was the hungry, ill-clad, ill-shod or even barefoot worker or peasant, selling or buying a shirt, a piece of furniture, a few ounce of meat or even a piece of bread on black or gray markets, working 10 to 12 hours a day under a barrack-like factory discipline and, sometimes, paying for any real or alleged offense with years of forced labor in a concentration camp. He did not dare to criticize a factory manager, let alone a party boss. He had no right to express any opinion on any major issue affecting his and the nation's destiny. He had to vote as he was ordered; to applaud the Leader with frantic enthusiasm, as he was ordered; and to let his dignity and personality be mocked by the so-called personality cult. . . Although in recent years the conditions have been greatly mitigated, the poverty, the inequality, the lack of political and intellectual freedom, and the bureaucratic terror are still there." (National Guardian, September 24, 1966, Page 8)

In spite of this reality, Deutscher continued to present the vision of ultimate human perfection under socialism, but he was obviously on the defensive.

Our trained students debating with the communists on the campuses can defeat the Marxists in the war for the mind.

We intend to conduct two anti-communism schools for students next summer—one in Washington, D.C. and one on the West Coast. We hope to provide scholarships for suitable students to cover support, tuition, food and lodging.

I stated that we needed an additional $100,000 to sustain our established programs and to carry out these new ones. Because of the generous response to our initial appeal, that figure is now reduced to $85,000. We hope to receive the full amount by the year's end. I will keep you informed of our progress from time to time.

Please send your sacrificial donation as soon as possible. We must take advantage of the remarkable opportunities that exist at present.

CAMPUS RESPONSE

The response of the colleges of the "What is Communism" lecture series is most encouraging. This series contains 14 lectures with the following titles:

- 1) What is Communism?
- 2) The Communist Doctrines of Class and Class Warfare
- 3) The Communist Doctrines of Class Morality and Class Guilt
- 4) The Communist Party
- 5) Communist Recruitment
- 6) Communist Training
- 7) Communist Activity
- 8) Communist Fronts
- 9) The Dictatorship of the Proletariat
- 10) Communist Monopoly
- 11) Communist Strategy to Conquer the U.S.A.
- 12) The Sino-Soviet Conflict
- 13) The Communist Dialectic
- 14) What You Can Do

This series is also recorded on long-playing records. There are four of these records and the fourth record includes eight anti-communist songs by Janet Greene. These are now available in a colored album, and they make an ideal Christmas gift. The cost is $10.

CHRISTMAS 1966

Each year some individuals, families, and firms choose to honor their friends, business associates, and customers by making a Christmas contribution to the Christian Anti-Communism Crusade. We have prepared a special Christmas card to be sent to those honored, to inform them that the gift has been made.

This Christmas, cards will be provided with mailing envelopes in the quantity requested. There is no charge for these cards. They are freely available to those who donate to the Crusade to honor their friends.

If requested, and the order is substantial, the name of an individual or firm will be printed on the cards. The plural "we" can be changed to the singular "I" if this is desired.

The front of the card is pictured below. Alongside it is the message inside the card.

Let me know the number of cards you desire. You may simultaneously honor your friends and fight for freedom.

(The card will be 7-3/8" X 3-3/4")

The card says:

A gift has been made to the Christian Anti-Communism Crusade in your honor. We have chosen this method to express our sincere wishes for your prosperity, well-being, and happiness this Christmas season.

Christmas reminds us of the living Christ and fills our hearts with good will. It disperses the fog of pessimism and despair created by the prevailing climate of materialism, the deadly doctrine of the death of God, and the prevalence of war.

The Christian Anti-Communism Crusade is working to preserve our heritage of freedom and the spirit of Christmas. To support them is to help preserve this heritage for our children. The plans of communism must be defeated. The message of the Prince of Peace must ring round the world.
